

Get connected

AIA's greatest value: nearly 94,000 like-minded peers and potential employers in your neighborhood and around the world. Learn more at aia.org/getconnected

Embrace the network

Get connected to a professional network no matter where you move after graduation. AIA's 217 local, state, and international chapters are your connection to new contacts, leadership opportunities, and skills. Chapter events, summits, and conferences like the AIA Conference on Architecture offer more opportunities to connect directly with the industry.

Join the conversation

Connect with thousands of your peers through AIA's 21 Knowledge Communities. And don't forget to check out the latest conversations on AIA's LinkedIn, Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter accounts.

Celebrate design

Check out AIA's honors and awards programs that celebrate diverse architectural accomplishments and professional achievements. There are opportunities for every career stage including Associate members and young professionals.

Be an advocate

Sign up for Architect Action Alerts—text "AIA" to the number 40649—and be among the first to find out about, and act on, legislation that impacts issues like student loan debt relief, community planning, stock plans, and more. Data rates may apply.

Get ahead

As an emerging professional, discover AIA's resources that will help you get ahead in your career. Learn more at aia.org/getahead

Learn & earn

Expand your portfolio and more through AIAU, our online continuing education platform, as well as courses, conferences, and experiences through your AIA chapter. You can also earn AXP credit at no cost with our online learning tool, Emerge by AIAU.

Invest in your future

AIA is where the architecture and design community comes together to share knowledge, expertise, and get involved. We're excited to have you join us. And we look forward to supporting—and celebrating—your work.

Get licensed

Prepare for your ARE exams with local study groups and prep sessions, online study materials, and more. Bonus: Your AIA member transcript tracks your HSW hours.

Get engaged

Jump in and maximize the value of your AIA membership. Learn more at aia.org/getengaged

Find your first job

Use the AIA Career Center, one of the industry's best job boards, to find opportunities at companies that you respect, value, and love.

Know your worth

Tap into industry research and a salary calculator that can give you an edge when negotiating your salary.

Supercharge your year

Plan to attend the AIA Conference on Architecture, the architecture and design event of the year! It's three immersive days with some of the most creative architects, designers, and firms making a difference in cities of every size all over the world. You'll also have access to industry-best continuing education, tours of iconic architecture, visionary keynotes, a dynamic expo floor, and endless networking opportunities. Registration is free for new members.*

*Terms and conditions apply.

AIA makes continuous efforts to ensure that only non-members receive promotional communications. We apologize to any valued member who remains on the distribution list. If you have received this in error, please notify us at memberservices@aia.org.

free for

Start your own blueprint for better today.

Join AIA

aia.org/newgrad

Questions? (800) 242-3837, option 2 | memberservices@aia.org

Check your mail

Keep an eye out for your monthly subscription to ARCHITECT magazine and check your email for AIA Architect, your biweekly e-newsletter.

Make it official

Start using the powerful, members-only Assoc. AIA credential that tells everyone you're more than a practitioner—you're a professional. Add it to your email signature, business cards, résumé, and online profiles.

Member discounts

Take advantage of ARE prep materials and exclusive member discounts on online courses that count toward AXP experience hours or that can help you start your career, and much more.

Learn more at aia.org/getstarted

Join

AIA helps new grads navigate their path to the profession with up to 18 months of free membership, plus free registration to the AIA Conference on Architecture—and that's just the beginning. Start putting your AIA membership to work for you.

Return to:
The American Institute of Architects
1735 New York
Avenue, NW
Washington, DC
20006-5292

Join

AIA

for free!

The American Institute of Architects

Start your own blueprint for better today.

Join The American Institute of Architects when you graduate and receive free membership for up to 18 months plus free registration to the AIA Conference on Architecture!* aia.org/newgrad

Questions?

(800) 242 3837, option 2
memberservices@aia.org