AIA MIAMI IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF MARION MANLEY: WOMEN FOUNDERS

While more than half of architecture students in the US are female, women are not yet equally represented in leadership and in firm ownership. Please join us for a panel discussion featuring 5 distinguished female architects, who, following in the footsteps of Marion Manley, Miami's first female architect, took the professional leap from employee to principal. Be inspired while we talk with these empowered female firm owners about starting their own firm and running a successful business, the challenges, accomplishments, rewards, advice, and creating a work /life balance.
